

Dell Connections License Manager

Version 1.1

Release Notes

Release Type and Definition

This file contains updated information for "Dell Connections License Manager Version (DCLM) 1.1." You can access the related documentation from the Dell support website at "support.dell.com."

Dell Connections License Manager 1.1 is used for managing licenses and the licensable features provided in Dell Connections products. Use Dell Connections licenses to enable server management capabilities such as embedded systems management monitoring in the Dell OpenManage Connections and Integrations suite of products.

With Dell Connections License Manager 1.1, you can do the following:

- Import Dell Connections licenses into the Connections License Manager.
- View and manage license information, like Entitlement ID, feature description, Licensed node, Nodes in use, Remaining nodes and so on.
- Export licenses.
- Delete licenses.

For more information on the License Manager, see the following documents:

- Dell Connections License Manager Version 1.1 Installation Guide
- Dell Connections License Manager Version 1.1 User's Guide

Issue 4:

Description

Dell Connections License Manager fails to authorize the user if DCLM is installed on a Windows 2008 based operating system and the domain server is installed on a Windows 2012 based operating system while the user is not added directly into any of the DCLM groups.

Resolution:

If DCLM is installed on a Windows 2008 R2 SP1 operating system, then install the Microsoft hotfix on the system where DCLM is installed. See Microsoft KB2830145 for more information.

If DCLM is installed on any other Windows 2008 based operating system, add the DCLM AD users directly into the DCLM groups.
